

ILLINOIS ASSUMED NAME REGISTRATION

If you are planning to start your own business, especially if you are interested in a sole proprietorship, you may want Spiegel & Utrera to obtain your Certificate of Assumed Name (hereinafter "assumed name").

An assumed name is any name under which a person transacts business in the state other than his legal name.

Registering an assumed name is valuable for corporations. The corporation may always use its name. If, however, the corporation wishes to use any name other than its name, it must file an assumed name. For example, XYZ, Inc., a Illinois corporation wants to open a restaurant and called "Clucky Chicken". XYZ, Inc. must file the assumed name with the State of Illinois in order to operate under "Clucky Chicken". By registering the assumed name and obtaining a Certificate of Assumed Name, the corporation may use its name or "Clucky Chicken".

One advantage of registering an assumed name is that you can obtain a Federal Identification Number for the name to enable you to open a bank account for the business under the assumed name.

If a business fails to comply with the applicable Illinois Laws on assumed name registrations, the results may be adverse in a court of law. A person who fails to comply with the requirements of Illinois Law on assumed names may be charged with a misdemeanor of the second degree.
